Dear Parents,

October 2023

I am proud to have been associated with the College for over eight years now. As we prepare to renovate the building, I still find the thrill of helping steer this wonderful school into the future as absorbing today as it was on my first day. Over these eight years I have been very grateful for all the parents who consider placing their children at the English College in Prague. Once you really get to know us, I hope you find the prospect of sending your son or daughter here as exciting as we do the anticipation of them joining us.

We are a school under the jurisdiction of the Czech Ministry of Education, also a British independent school that is a member of the Headmasters' and Headmistresses' Conference (HMC) group of schools in the United Kingdom and a fully certified COBIS (Council of British International Schools) training school. But enough of the badges and labels, what are we actually like?

We have a humanistic, liberal tradition, which essentially means being open minded, thoughtful and caring. Our primary focus is on building relationships for the purposes of improving the educational experience, but also for life in general. By following our curriculum that leads ultimately to the International Baccalaureate Diploma (IB) at 18 or 19, your son or daughter will qualify for admission to universities here in the Czech Republic, in Europe, in the United Kingdom and elsewhere in the world. The IB Diploma, if taken at the English College together with the State Maturita in Czech Language and Literature, is also recognised as the equivalent of the full Czech Maturita.

We provide an education that will generate not only the academic qualifications needed for higher education, but will also equip your son or daughter with the skills and values necessary for success in the workplace and to become a responsible citizen of an interdependent world. Perhaps even :more.

Do come and visit us to see what we have to offer – a unique blend of British and Czech elements where predominantly Czech students learn to think independently, gain confidence and fluency in English, but can do so without sacrificing their Czech language, literature and heritage.

Yours sincerely,

Nigel S Brown

What does the English College in Prague stand for?

Mission Statement

The English College in Prague was established, and continues to exist, to provide an English-medium education for young people in Prague, primarily of Czech origin, which is second to none academically but also develops every individual's potential to the full and prepares them for the practical, social, intellectual and moral challenges that they will face in today's globalised society.

Message from Lord Holme of Cheltenham, our Founder Chairman of Governors

Lord Holme was instrumental in the founding of the College and was its first Chairman of Governors. He considered the following principles to be central to our mission:

1. The concept of developing each student's full human potential. Genetic inheritance confers upon each of us a bundle of talents, aptitudes and responses and the life chances that go with them. It is one of the roles of education to identify and nurture these potentials and to raise them further so that each student realises his or her fullest self.
2. The ideal of a community built on reciprocity. A school is a community in miniature and it should be guided by mutual care and respect with each student "putting back" into the common store of good will and positive actions at least as much as they take out. Dealings between members of the school community should be characterised by care, consideration and courtesy.
3. The importance of international understanding, not just between the UK and the Czech Republic, with ties of language, literature and learning but throughout the larger family of mankind when so many shared problems can only be solved by shared values and shared actions. We are educating responsible and aware citizens of an ever-smaller interdependent world.

Our current vision for the next 5 years

The current vision for the English College is built on the school's founding Mission Statement and Lord Holme's Three Guiding Principles. Maintaining its focus on relationships and academic aspirations, the College's 5-year vision is to routinely hit an average of 35 IB points (expecting 36 occasionally), but without squeezing out the passion, individuality or the wellbeing of our students, nor the extensive range of co-curricular activities and events that define the school's approach to holistic education.

It further intends to fulfil its ambition to modernise and extend its premises, creating a unique fusion of modern and traditional styles to inspire great teaching and learning. Consistent with positioning itself as a leading COBIS and HMC school, it aspires to strengthen connections between what is taught in the classroom and wider Czech society, but also our connections to the UK through teacher training, teacher collaboration and exchanges with our partner schools there and in Europe.

The English College Foundation and the Origins of the ECP

The English College Foundation is a UK registered charity, established in 1992 by the ECP's first Chairman of Governors, the late Lord Holme, and Founder Governor Ann Lewis who, together with others, led the long and sometimes challenging task of opening the English College in September 1994, with Hubert Ward as its first Headmaster.

The inspiration for the College came as a result of a meeting in 1990 between President Havel and the British Foreign Office Minister, William Waldegrave. Ann Lewis was one of the Minister's advisors and at that meeting, it was suggested that a project be launched to revive the tradition of a British-style education in Prague, established by the old Prague English Grammar School, which opened in 1927 before being closed down by the Nazis. It had a brief re-flowering after the war, but was finally closed down for good by the Communists in 1954.

One of our former Governors, Jan Kovařovic, was a pupil at the school and speaks with gratitude and affection about their teachers including Mr Slavík, who was arrested in 1950 and spent time in prison for anti-state activities – for producing a leaflet commemorating the anniversary of President Masaryk. A team of British and Czech supporters, including Ann Lewis, Dr Martyn Bond and Lord Holme, our first Chairman of Governors, set up a UK registered charity – the English College Foundation. These early supporters had been on the point of giving up because of the difficulty in finding a suitable home for the school and were therefore very grateful to Prague 9 Council and the Mayor at the time, Tomáš Szennai, for the offer of our building on Sokolovská. Originally secured on a 25-year lease, we were finally able to purchase the freehold in August 2021, thus securing the building for future generations of students. Architects have completed an exciting plan to develop the site and we look forward to being able to offer increased and improved facilities for students and staff as we approach our 30th anniversary in 2024-25.

The English College Foundation continues to help and support the ECP today. Its members take great pleasure in seeing our graduates make their way in their chosen careers and they continue to support the College with regular donations, including money raised at garden parties generously held by the Czech Ambassador in London. Welcome additions to our facilities - the drama studio and music courtyard - were made possible by donations from the ECF, together with a new English College Foundation Scholarship.

Academic Programme

The College offers a unified curricular programme for all students in their first four years of study, which both prepares them for the IB Diploma and also covers the Czech national curriculum. All subjects are taught in English, apart from Czech and Modern Languages, which are taught in the target language. In Years 5 and 6 all students study for the International Baccalaureate Diploma. In addition, we also prepare those on the IB & Maturita Programme for the Czech Maturita, which is taught alongside the IB Diploma. The IB Diploma allows students who wish to take the Maturita to be exempt from all other Maturita examinations except those in Czech Language and Literature.

It is an important principle of our academic programmes that students are rewarded for positive achievement – what they know, understand and can do – rather than being penalised for an accumulation of errors. As well as testing whether students can recall information and present it in an orderly manner, the curriculum encourages:

- The development of literacy and practical skills
- An investigative and creative approach
- The use of initiative and logic to solve problems
- The application of skills, knowledge and understanding
- Digital literacy and the effective use of ICT

Foundation Programme (Years 1 - 2, students aged 13 - 15)

UK & Czech Equivalent Years 8 & 9

The Foundation Programme introduces students to a wide range of subjects, developing both their subject knowledge and the English skills needed to access the curriculum and communicate effectively.

Year 1 is designed to allow students to make rapid progress in English and also to become acquainted with a practical and reflective approach to learning. Students follow a broad curriculum of English, Czech, Mathematics, General Science (Physics, Chemistry and Biology), History, Geography, Computer Science, a Modern Foreign Language (French, German or Spanish), Art, Music, Drama, Physical Education (PE) and Personal, Social and Moral Education (PSME). A large number of lessons are devoted to English Language preparation. Students can study Czech either as a first or second language. In Year 2 students continue the broad curriculum of Year 1 and prepare for the increasing demands of Years 3 to 6. In both Years 1 and 2 there is a high level of embedded Information and Communication Technology (ICT) content, and it is expected that all pupils are able to bring a laptop into school when requested.

Pre-IB Programme (Years 3 - 4, students aged 15 - 17)

UK Equivalent Years 10 & 11; 1st and 2nd year of 4-year Czech grammar schools

All Year 3 and 4 students follow our two-year Pre-IB course, at the end of which they will sit a combination of internal and external examinations in a wide range of subjects. These are academic courses and involve both factual learning and the development of the skills needed to lead happy and successful lives beyond school. They form an excellent and rigorous preparation for the IB Diploma Programme.

Our bespoke Pre-IB curriculum was specifically created by our teachers to equip students with the knowledge and skills required to succeed when studying for the IB Diploma. Assessments are designed to mirror the style of assessment encountered in Years 5 and 6, and students will be encouraged to think and work creatively.

At the end of Year 4 all students will be expected to take external examinations in English (IGCSE or Cambridge English), Mathematics (IGCSE) and a Modern Foreign Language (Common European Framework). For those taking Performing Arts there is also the option of taking the LAMDA (London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art) exam. All other subjects will be assessed by a combination of continual assessment and end-of-year exams set by ECP.

All students are required to study the following subjects:

English Language & Literature; Czech; one of either French, German or Spanish; Changing Times and Changing World (Humanities); Biology, Chemistry and Physics; Mathematics; Physical Education*; PSME*.

Students will then choose to take one of the following subjects:

Visual Arts*, Performing Arts (Drama and Music), Computer Science, Business Studies or an extra Language qualification (usually Russian).

Students who do not choose to take either Visual Arts or Performing Arts must also take one extra lesson of Cultural Studies*.

Year 4 internal examinations will take place in June. Year 4 students will remain in school until their internal exams. If they have an external examination during this time, they are excused from school on the exam day and the day before to help them prepare.

The curriculum in Years 3 and 4 is demanding and will certainly stretch students academically. They will need to work hard throughout the two years, avoid being absent and keep up-to-date with their work. There is a high level of embedded Information and Communication Technology (ICT) content, and it is expected that all pupils are able to bring a laptop into school when requested.

"A School offering both the IB and Maturita"

International Baccalaureate (Years 5 - 6, students aged 16 - 19)

UK & Equivalent Years 12 & 13, 3rd and 4th year of Czech grammar schools

The English College is unusual in Prague in that we also prepare students for the Czech State Maturita examination alongside the IB Diploma, which allows those students who take this option the choice of universities in the Czech Republic as well as across the globe. Increasingly we are seeing our students study in a broader range of locations and our key priority is to enable them to compete successfully for places at the top universities in the world.

The International Baccalaureate (IB)

Students follow a course of study that leads to the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma Programme qualification. The IB Programme is designed to 'develop enquiring, knowledgeable and caring young people, who will help to create a better and more peaceful world through intercultural understanding and respect.' It is a prestigious, demanding two-year programme with end-of-course examinations designed for highly motivated students. We are following the IBO's General Regulations for the IB Diploma Programme. The document is also available in the School Policies section on ECP website.

Students can opt for a Maturita route, which requires the study of Czech Language and Literature as well as English and another Modern Foreign Language and leads to qualifications in both the IB and Czech Maturita. Students currently may also opt for a non-Maturita route, which does not have such restrictions but leads to qualification only in the IB Diploma. For students whose native language is not Czech or English we can offer the possibility of studying the native language as 'self-taught'; this can be only taken at Standard Level and requires independent work on the part of the student. The ECP will assist with coordinating and supervising the student's work. If you are interested in this possibility, please contact the IBDP Coordinator.

About the IB Philosophy and Structure

The IB Diploma Programme was born of efforts to establish a common curriculum and university entry credential for students moving from one country to another. International educators were motivated by practical considerations but also by an idealistic vision. They believed that students should share an academic experience that would emphasise critical thinking, intercultural understanding and exposure to a variety of points of view.

To be eligible for the award of the IB Diploma, all candidates must:

- Study six subjects, one subject from each of the groups mentioned below
- Study three of these six subjects at Higher Level and three at Standard Level
- Submit an Extended Essay of up to 4,000 words in one of the subjects of the IB curriculum
- Complete the Theory of Knowledge course
- Complete the Creativity-Action-Service programme

Group 1: Language A (native language): The IB & Maturita Programme students study Czech. For other students the Language A is English or their own mother tongue (for which the College supports students doing the SL self-taught route).

learn :more

Group 2: Language B (second or foreign language): English B, French B, German B or Spanish B. We sometimes also offer Russian B (subject to demand and teacher availability) and an ab initio language for pupils who have not studied a language before, or whose current level of ability is not high enough to access the Language B curriculum. The courses in Language B are practical and language-based. Alternatively, students may study a second Language A and earn a bilingual IB Diploma.

The IB states that “Language ab initio and Language B courses are language acquisition courses - designed to provide students with the opportunity to develop in a language in addition to their home/personal/best language(s). They are not designed for students entering the course who already have the ability to communicate confidently and proficiently in that specific language.” As the IB says “misplacement may be considered school maladministration according to Academic Integrity,” we cannot place native speakers of a language into that Language B class. By doing so, we risk our status as an IB school. Parents and students must carefully consider IB language choices offered by the ECP in the years before entering the Diploma Programme to ensure suitable options are available that do not violate IB regulations.

Group 3: Individuals and Societies: Economics, Geography, History, Environmental Systems, Philosophy or Psychology.

Group 4: Experimental Sciences: Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Systems, Physics or Computer Science.

Group 5: Mathematics: Mathematics Analysis HL and SL, Mathematics Applications SL.

Group 6: Arts: Theatre or Visual Arts or a second subject from Groups 1 to 4.

Please note that not all courses run every year. In particular if fewer than 4 students choose a course then the College may not run it that year.

The Extended Essay: This is a 4,000 word essay. Each student has the opportunity to investigate a topic of special interest. The essay requirements acquaint students with the kind of independent research and writing skills expected by universities. It should be written in one of the six IB subjects being studied by a student.

Theory of Knowledge (ToK): The course researches the issue ‘How we learn’, challenging students to question the basis of knowledge, to be aware of subjective and ideological biases and to develop the ability to analyse evidence that is expressed in rational argument. It aims to develop intellectual honesty in making knowledge claims.

Creativity-Action-Service (CAS): The IB Diploma Programme's goal is to educate the whole person and foster responsible, compassionate citizens. The CAS component encourages students to share their energy, enthusiasm and special talents with others. Students may, for example, participate in theatre or musical productions, sport activities, community service and charity activities. Students should, through these activities, develop greater awareness of themselves, concern for others, and the ability to work cooperatively with other people.

Assessment of the Programme: The IB Diploma Programme has earned a reputation for rigorous assessment. The grading system is criterion-referenced, which means that each student's performance is measured against well-defined levels of achievement. IB points (grades) range from 1 point (minimum) to 7 points (maximum) at both Standard and Higher Level. The award of the Diploma requires at least 24 points and the successful completion of the Theory of Knowledge course, the Extended Essay and CAS. Our results are consistently above the IB World Average.

The IB Learner Profile

The aim of all IB programmes is to develop internationally-minded people who, recognising their common humanity and shared guardianship of the planet, help to create a better and more peaceful world. IB learners strive to be:

Inquirers

They develop their natural curiosity. They acquire skills necessary to conduct inquiry and research and show independence in learning. They actively enjoy learning and this love of learning will be sustained throughout their lives.

Knowledgeable

They explore concepts, ideas and issues that have local and global significance. In so doing, they acquire in-depth knowledge and develop understanding across a broad and balanced range of disciplines.

Thinkers

Czech Maturita

The English College is unusual in Prague in that we also prepare students for the Czech State Maturita examination alongside the IB Diploma; this allows those students who take this option the choice of universities in the Czech Republic as well as across the globe. Increasingly we are seeing our students study in a broader range of locations and our key priority is to enable our students to compete successfully for places at the top universities in the world.

The Maturita qualification is awarded if a student a) passes the IB Diploma, b) achieves a passing grade in all their subjects at the end of Year 6 and c) passes the examinations in Czech Language and Literature set by CERMAT. Those taking the Maturita should study Czech at Higher or Standard Level for IB.

Maturita students who achieve the B1 qualification in a Modern Foreign Language, which they study at ECP (French, German or Spanish) before Year 5 do not need to take a third language (in addition to Czech and English) in Years 5 and 6 unless it is one of their IB choices. All other students must either choose the third language as an IB option, or attend non-IB language classes until they achieve the B1 qualification. The external examinations set by CERMAT are currently taken by ECP students in April and May of Year 5 (the written parts) and May of Year 6 (the oral part).

The Provision of English

English lessons in all years are tailored to fit the needs of our students' wide range of prior learning in English: both fluent first language speakers and those who started learning English later in life are catered for. As we recognise that many of our students are not native speakers and have ambitions to study and work in the English-speaking world, our courses from Year 1 include English language acquisition and development so that they will have the language skills and knowledge to take either IB English A or English B. To that end, all students are trained to develop their literacy skills and to learn how to appreciate and analyse literary and non-literary texts.

In addition, we identify students who need additional English language support. The Head of English as well as the Head of Learning Support are always involved in this process. All of our courses, whether for first or second language learners, ensure that students study language structures, develop literacy skills and can analyse and enjoy literature at an appropriate level.

ECP Pathways Through English

Pathways Through English:

a) Entrance, Setting & Courses

- Before joining ECP, students sit an English placement test and are set according to their current level of English.
- All pathways for students starting in Year 1, lead to the possibility of studying English A at IB. Each set studies literacy and language skills, literature and textual analysis as well as language input (grammar and vocabulary) appropriate to their level of English.

b) Changing classes

- Students can be moved to a different set at any time in the school year after the class teacher, in consultation with colleagues, has fully assessed their ability across all language skills and has evaluated their learning needs.

c) Y4 External Exams

- In Year 4 all students have the opportunity to sit external English exams.
- 4-1 sit IGCSE English First Language.
- 4-2 sit either IGCSE or CAE (Cambridge Advanced English)
- 4-3 sit CAE
- 4-4 sit either CAE or FCE

IGCSE is the international equivalent of the English 1st language exam that school students take in England and Wales at the age of 16. Cambridge CAE tests students to C1 and C2 levels on the Common European Framework for Languages (CEFR). An A grade at FCE is equivalent to a pass at CAE.

d) Entry to IB

- IB English A courses are English first language and focus on textual analysis
- IB English B is a second language course and focuses on developing language knowledge and skills.
- Students can not take IB English B after sitting IGCSE English 1st Language. They must continue to IB English A
- Students usually need C1 level (FCE grade A or CAE pass) to continue to English A
- For students who are planning to study a technical subject at university, IB English B may be an appropriate option for IB.

The Unique Nature of Teaching and Learning at ECP

Teachers at the English College create opportunities for students to not only acquire content knowledge but also to rigorously evaluate it and explore context and multiple perspectives. Learning is an engaging, collaborative process that takes place inside and outside the classroom and encourages risk-taking and critical thinking, as outlined in our school-wide ECP Lesson Attributes:

- Engagement & Challenge - Teaching engages and challenges students to adopt aspirational and ethical attitudes
- Making Connections - Review of and making connections with prior learning and the wider world
- Curiosity - Asking questions that inspire inquiry and reveal the level of student understanding
- Guided Learning - New material is presented in small steps, with modelling and guided student practice
- Language & Literacy - Teaching is explicitly aware of EAL context and provides for rich practise of the different modes of literacy

Students aren't our only learners; ECP staff visit each others' lessons in order to disseminate best practice, and they investigate evidence-based ways of teaching, supporting and assessing students. We have a rich culture of educational research and reflection, outlined in an evolving set of Teaching and Learning Priorities, that celebrate, support and enhance the pedagogy at ECP.

The ECP is one of only 21 Council of British International Schools (COBIS) Training Schools around the world, which means we serve as a model to other educational institutions for pedagogical development. We are also founder members of "Teaching Together in Europe," a consortium with two other prestigious European HMC and COBIS Training Schools and three UK teacher training providers. This group partners internationally to offer UK trainee teachers the chance to learn in our European classrooms, as well as providing learning opportunities for our teachers through discussion, workshops and visits.

Academic Support

All students at ECP take brief, online skills assessments provided by Cambridge Assessment. Our Tutors use this information, alongside entrance exam results, previous academic performance, guidance from subject teachers and their own professional judgement, to form a broad minimum expectation of their tutees' academic progress. We track attainment against this baseline, intervening where students appear to be performing below expectations. This is a holistic system, considering both academic and pastoral factors, and placing the students' individual needs at the heart of the process as we seek to help each student fulfil their academic potential.

Our philosophy of academic aspiration means that we encourage all students to support each other in doing the best that they can. Grades should never be seen as a competition, or as an end in themselves; they are a tool to reflect on attainment and progress.

The Learning Support Department

The Learning Support Department is designed to work not only with students with Specific Learning Difficulties, but it also offers general learning support to all students at the English College. The Head of Learning Support works closely with all staff and parents to identify and assist such students. Support can be individual, group or in-class, either on a regular or occasional basis. The aim of the Learning Support Department is to create a level playing field for all students, allowing them to achieve their full potential regardless of their difficulties.

Pastoral Care

The emphasis on pastoral care and wellbeing is fundamental to the life of the College. We aim to provide a friendly environment based on strong relationships, in which students are cared for as individuals in an atmosphere of mutual respect and understanding between teachers and students. For students to succeed academically and to develop their full potential, it is important that their wellbeing is central and they are encouraged to have high expectations and standards.

Students are divided into four Houses – Aqua, Ventus, Terra and Ignis. Each of them is a small community and together they create the whole school community.

Every student has a personal tutor, who is a member of a team of tutors under the leadership of a Senior Tutor, who reports to the Deputy Head (Pastoral and Upper School). The tutor's role is to support each student's academic development and wellbeing, encouraging them to make the best use of their time and talents, to examine moral issues, to have confidence in their own ideas and opinions, to learn to work effectively with others, and to develop the maturity and judgement to overcome personal problems and manage difficult situations. The Headmaster has an open-door policy and takes a personal interest in every student.

Aims of the Pastoral Programme:

1. To prioritise the wellbeing of our students.
2. To deliver individual care and support in an atmosphere of high attendance, mutual understanding and respect.
3. To create an environment where freedom is always linked with the sense of responsibility, an environment where creativity is the bridge between different cultures, an environment where older students feel responsibility for younger students, a caring environment that ensures that problems can be identified at an early stage.
4. To ensure that high academic and attendance standards are met and students achieve their full potential.
5. To provide a Tutor Time programme based on a range of foci that aims to ensure that all cultures and nationalities are understood and respected equally in the College community.
6. To listen and learn from students, both inside and outside the classroom.
7. To provide tactful, fair, kind, supportive and consistent pastoral care in order to encourage and help the student to enjoy and make use of all his/her virtues and talents.
8. To help young people choose the right way to develop their characters, make ethical decisions and find their place in society.
9. To make sure that students are aware of people in need in society.
10. To help students manage difficult life situations and overcome difficult personal problems.
11. To work closely with parents and families, help them to deal with any problems their child faces and, if necessary, liaise between parents and students and teachers and students.

The :more Programme

programme

The :more programme represents a variety of activities promoting overall students' development and developing broader understanding. The :more programme naturally reinforces life-long education and supports the school community as most of the activities involve students of the same year group or across the year groups.

The :more programme therefore connects pastoral care and the academic programme and it also embeds the IB Learner Profile. The value of 'experience' as a learning tool has been more and more acknowledged in many educational documents. The :more programme puts experience at the centre of learning by providing challenges and opportunities. It encourages students to explore more, to create more, to help more, to live more in the present, simply to experience more in life. Students then learn from their own mistakes, from specific true life situations. Students are also naturally using their academic knowledge in real life situations and meanwhile learn more about specific areas through the activities rather than just in the classroom.

We believe that every child has a variety of talents and the obligation of the school is to help discover and develop them. Success in any area helps a young person to establish self-confidence and self-esteem. Nowadays universities increasingly pay attention to the extra-curricular activities of the applicants. The College is therefore not merely an academic factory but it must pay attention to the development of all the talents and skills of our students: physical, emotional, creative and social. It is no surprise then that tutors, in their holistic comments at the end of the school year, write about to what extent a student has developed as a whole person.

The :more programme also prepares students for the IB Programme's CAS element - students who want to get the IB Diploma must prove that they are active, that they help people in need and are capable of creative thinking and work. Through a special Pre-CAS programme, students in Years 1-4 develop habits that are required in the IB Programme.

Students are also encouraged to take on responsibilities and help to improve school life. The Students' Leadership and Mentoring programmes are good examples of students' involvement in running the school.

Student Leadership

Student leadership takes many forms, from organising ECAs to taking on specific responsibilities in their House (sporting/cultural, for example) but perhaps one of the most important leadership activities is the Student Council where students learn how to become active partners with the school management and how to organise different events and projects representing the student body of the school. Very popular is the election of the new President of the Student Council each September - it is important, not only for the candidates, who have to prepare presentations and campaigns, but also for other students who learn how to choose the best candidate.

Mentoring Programme

The Mentoring programme helps students in Year 1 to adapt well at school. Selected students from Year 6 take care of Year 1 students and meet with them each month to support them in the first stage of their studies at ECP. Year 1 students then also join Year 6 students at their Graduation Ball where they are formally welcomed into the ECP community. Not only do Year 1 students benefit from the Mentoring programme, but Year 6 do also - taking responsibility for youngsters is a great life experience.

The Art of Reflection - Experience Books and Pre-CAS Blogs

An important part of the :more programme is reflection. The :more programme activities and outside school activities are recorded in the student's Experience Book (students in Years 1-2) or in the Pre-CAS blogs (Years 3-4). Students write their reflections of them - a summary of what they have learnt, what they have achieved and how to use this specific experience in future. Although writing reflections is challenging, students start to realise that through meaningful reflection the experience becomes stronger and they can learn more from it. The Experience Books are also a nice memory book that students will value later in life. Tutors check Experience Books and CAS blog entries regularly and help students to reflect sensibly and encourage them to ask good questions about everything they go through in their lives. Students can also use other ways to record their reflections, such as videos or any form of art.

To understand the :more programme better we have created the :more tree - a symbol that shows how activities are connected and what they lead to. For more information, explore :more tree on the website.

Here are just some examples of :more programme activities: Extra-Curricular Activities and Societies, Caritas, Trips, Prague Programme, House Competitions, DofE, Theme of the Year, Lectures Programme, Debates, Cultural Olympiad, Festival of the Arts and :more...

The Lord Holme Library and Ann Lewis Reading Room

The recently refurbished library is an exceptional space where staff and students can access information, read or work in a peaceful environment. It is one of the best English language libraries in Prague, housing over 10,000 books, thousands of textbooks, a range of magazines and a photocopier. There are 10 computers available for students to use during the day and 10 laptops, which students may borrow for use in lessons. In addition, the library has a large reading room that students can use throughout the day, and after school, for quiet reading or private study.

The library catalogue, Accessit, is available 24/7 giving access to over 20,000 e-books as well as a range of subscription databases such as JSTOR, Infobase, Britannica Schools and The Day as well as providing links to other free online resources.

The Library staff are available before and after school and throughout the day to help students find appropriate resources, books to read or to support students with information searching or referencing.

University Destinations 2023

of students get to their first-choice
university

When they leave the English College, most students expect to go on to college or university in the UK, the Czech Republic, the USA or elsewhere in the world. Experienced teachers advise students on their choice of university and courses of study and help them with their applications. Students are encouraged to research the opportunities available to them and to gain work experience that will assist them with their applications. Students are taught to evaluate their personal strengths and match them to career and study aspirations. They construct personal curriculum vitae and make a provisional career and study/training plan, which will form the basis for future university applications.

Every year our students receive offers from the most prestigious universities in the world, from Oxford and Cambridge to the US Ivy League Universities such as the University of Pennsylvania. Fourteen ECP students have received offers from Oxford and Cambridge universities in the past ten years, and most students who go on to the UK study at Russell Group universities, such as LSE, York, Manchester, Bristol, UCL and Imperial College. In addition, many of our students opt for diverse locations such as Hong Kong, South Korea, the Netherlands, France, Sweden, Switzerland or Austria.

Of our 70 students who left school in the summer of 2023, 62 were awarded places at their first choice university including Cambridge, Imperial College, King's College London, London School of Economics, Warwick University, University College London, Trinity College Dublin, the University of Amsterdam, the University of Toronto, Berkeley California, Sciences Po, and Charles University. A further nine will be attending other prestigious universities throughout the world, with the remainder taking a gap year.

In order to help our students decide which university to apply to, we run a number of university and careers events throughout the year. This includes hosting universities from all over the world as well as holding larger events such as a Dutch University fair. We also bring in speakers from a variety of different careers, often ECP alumni, to give students a taste of what careers are available to them. We are a community that learns from each other and many of our recent students often come back to offer additional advice to our current students.

ECP Graduates

All ECP students automatically become members of the ECP Network (ECPN) when they leave school. Our graduates regularly visit the College to advise current students on universities and careers, sharing their experience and offering practical advice, helping to guide the next generation as they enter their adult lives. Here, some of them talk about what the English College means to them.

Tomáš Pospíšil (IB 1999) Diplomat

If I think about how the English College has helped me, I would say primarily with my English skills and then that teaching me the ability to think critically and to consider the arguments both for and against have been equally important for my work. I learned the meaning of the words biased, unbiased and prejudice. I hardly understood the idea behind them, even in Czech, because the concept of biased news, biased analysis or an unbiased opinion was very new to many in Czech society in the early 1990s. Neither shall I forget that it provided a positive, multicultural environment and so I was keen to pursue an international career and I have had no problems adapting in any of the countries I have lived in so far.

Jan Barta (IB 2004) Entrepreneur

I am currently an entrepreneur and investor mostly focused on the internet sector with projects such as ePojisteni.cz, the largest online car insurance comparison website in the Czech Republic, and various others such as Tarifomat.cz, SlevyDnes.cz, Favi.cz and JenPrace.cz. I graduated from the English College in Prague in 2004. The ECP was an absolutely fantastic experience and a jumping block for my future career. It helped me develop vital skills I prize very highly (even more than the academic experience), such as staying constantly curious, the ability to reason and solve problems, and being able to give something back.

Petr Fiman (IB 2004) Risk Manager

An ECP education was the most formative experience of my life. Over my six years at the school I met so many great people, became fluent in English and German and passed the IB with 44 points, unlocking access to the most prestigious universities in the world. To this day, some 18 years after having left the school, all of my closest friends are from the ECP circle. I started my professional career at Deutsche Bank in 2007, on a graduate scheme in Credit Risk Management, later moving to Bank of America Merrill Lynch before returning to Prague to become Senior Risk Specialist with Ezpada s.r.o. I have two degrees from the London School of Economics, both with Distinction (one in Economics, one in Finance). Over the years, I have grown special ties to the ECP from the alumni angle too. I have served as a Director of the English College Foundation and joined the ECP Board of Governors in 2016. Wanting to 'give back' to the ECP has always been on my mind and I know there are many others among the ECP alumni who want to do the same or are already doing so.

Jan Brunner (IB 1999) Diplomat

Whenever I attend the annual English College Foundation Garden Party at the residence of the Czech Ambassador in London, I realise what the English College in Prague means to me. There is a special bond between the students of the ECP that can not be explained with words. Whenever I meet someone who has his or her own history with the English College, there is immediately a mutual sympathy and understanding. I am not exaggerating when I say that the years at the ECP were the best of my life. I started my ECP journey as a shy student sitting at the back of the class and until returning to Prague, I served my country as the Deputy Ambassador of the Czech Republic in the United Kingdom. The English College in Prague gave me confidence in myself and taught me how to defend my arguments. I will always be grateful to the English College, not only for my professional success, but especially for the life-long friendships we made there.

Karolína Zvoníčková (IB 2020)

Biomedical Sciences, University of Oxford

Since early in high school, I have had a keen interest in neuroscience and biomedicine, which I had the opportunity to develop and explore further at the English College in Prague. I believe that the journey I began at the ECP in 2017 represented the first step towards reading Biomedical Sciences at the University of Oxford, where I am currently in the final year of my studies. I dreamed of studying at this prestigious university for a long time, but it always seemed like a very distant, daunting idea that I was not sure was realistic at all before I joined the ECP. Yet, thanks to the support of my educators and scholarship sponsors at the ECP, I was able to turn this into reality. In particular, I am grateful to ECP alumnus, Jan Barta, who has generously supported a number of students financially over the years - myself included - through his Barta Scholarships.

The ECP has not only helped me grow academically, but it has also enhanced my intercultural understanding and allowed me to explore many other areas. Thanks to the ECP's Caritas programme, for instance, I had the opportunity to become involved in charitable initiatives, where I could give back to the community. Such programmes cannot always be found in other educational institutions and that is one of the many things that makes the ECP so unique. Furthermore, the ECP has taught me not to mindlessly accept facts and knowledge that we are constantly exposed to, but to question their origin, their credibility as well as their standing in comparison to alternative sources of information. Overall, among other things, it has taught me to think critically and to approach everything from multiple perspectives, which resonates with me to this day.

Tereza Karbanová (IB 2021)
Medicine, Trinity College, Dublin

I graduated from the ECP in 2021 and am currently a medical student at Trinity College Dublin. When I think back to my time in ECP, I am most thankful for the support I received from all the wonderful staff. Admittedly, the IB was a gruelling experience on both an academic and a personal level, but what made it just that little bit more manageable, was the passion and care teachers put into our education. I carried that positive attitude to learning with me into my years in college and I can wholeheartedly say the IB has prepared me for the academic challenge like none other. In my experience, the ECP has always encouraged students to follow their ambitions, promoting healthy academic and personal development, which has helped me grow into an aspiring scholar with a drive for self-improvement. I am keen on becoming a doctor, a lifelong learner with an open mind, and the ECP has played a big part in that.

Michael Balamotis (IB 2022)
European Law, University of Maastricht

I could talk extensively about the impact the ECP has had on my life, despite only graduating in 2022. Transitioning from a traditional Czech primary school to an internationally oriented and constantly developing high school seemed scary at the time, but to my surprise it was the most natural shift I could have possibly imagined. From forming friendships and learning how to be a student in the early years, to stressing over deadlines and IB exams in the later years, I can confidently say the ECP experience was nothing short of memorable.

Currently, I am a Law student at Maastricht University with a focus on European law. Collaborating with other law students so far has made me realise just how great of an advantage I possess due to my studies at the English College. From an academic standpoint, I have developed great essay writing skills, learned how to critically evaluate sources and gained the ability to communicate a message with conviction. On a personal level, the school allowed me to meet and befriend an exceptionally diverse group of people, while also teaching me the necessity of being open-minded within a culture where a wide variety of opinions are present.

Michaela Vladyková (IB 2021)
Medicine, University of Edinburgh

After graduating the ECP in 2021 and starting my medical degree at the University of Edinburgh, I have realised how positively I have been impacted by the environment I experienced throughout my high school years. ECP has always challenged me to go beyond my comfort zone, allowing me to explore new passions and improve myself in a wide range of areas. However, the most important part was that I never did it alone. My teachers and the school staff always made me feel supported so that I was not afraid of failure, allowing me to dream bigger and fulfill my potential. I was able to have open conversations and be treated as an equal by my teachers, which helped me develop my critical thinking and trust in my own thought process, rather than blindly follow what we were told. This gave me a huge advantage in becoming an independent and self-sustaining learner at my university. Overall, considering other Czech schools I had attended before, ECP has been the one who made me most excited about going to school and made my transition to university easy.

Patrons of the English College in Prague

We are proud that two distinguished people, President Václav Havel and Charles, Prince of Wales, now King Charles III, agreed to be Founder Patrons of our school when the English College was established in 1994. Our Royal Patron has visited the school on two occasions, most recently in 2010.

Charles, Prince of Wales's message on the occasion of the ECP's 25th anniversary

Over the years, during my visits to Prague, I have been particularly pleased to have the opportunity to meet so many of the staff and students and to see for myself the open and engaging environment the College provides, as well as the international outlook it encourages in its students. I am glad to hear that many of them go on to study at top universities in the United Kingdom, and that the first graduates of the English College are now pursuing successful careers both in the Czech Republic and beyond. I have every confidence that in the years to come alumni of the College will be amongst the future leaders of the Czech Republic - in politics, in law, in the diplomatic service, in science and the arts, in the voluntary sector and in business. I would like to send my very best wishes to everyone at the English College - the staff, Governors, current students and alumni, and their families. I trust that the English College will continue to provide an outstanding example of the best of British education adapted to the special circumstances of the Czech Republic, and to offer a vital and much-valued connection between our two countries.

Charles, Prince of Wales – Patron
Now HM King Charles III

Václav Havel († 18. 12. 2011)

I appreciate the English College's insistence on combining high academic standards with personal achievement in areas such as art and music, sport and debating, and strong sense of community involvement. The students emerge self-confident and articulate, fluent in English and at home on the international scene.

Václav Havel – Patron

Karel Schwarzenberg

I treat it as a singular honour to have been invited to succeed our former President Václav Havel as Joint Patron of the English College in Prague, alongside HRH The Prince of Wales. The College is a shining example of Anglo-Czech cooperation for the noblest of purposes: educating coming generations in the values and principles which have sustained our own. From the modest beginnings of the project some twenty years ago, it has developed into one of the leading educational establishments in the capital, attracting not only many gifted young Czech students but also those from a variety of other countries living here in Prague. It is both Czech and international, a combination that brings out the best from both backgrounds.

Karel Schwarzenberg – Patron

Members of the Board of Governors

The English College was made possible by a charitable trust in the UK, the English College Foundation. The Foundation raised the money to establish and develop the College. The Foundation entrusts the daily management of the College to the Headmaster and his team but they are overseen by a group of appointees called College Governors. These people are nominated for the service they can provide to the College because of their professional backgrounds and positions in the UK and the Czech Republic. They receive no financial reward for their service, which is highly valued by the College and the Foundation. They meet three times a year at the College.

Chairman
Denis Keefe CMG

Denis has been Chairman of Governors since 2021. He is a diplomat by profession, retiring in 2022 after three years teaching at the Royal College of Defence Studies in London.

His first posting was to Prague during the Cold War, where he managed the Embassy's contacts with dissidents, including Václav Havel. He has served in Nairobi, Prague (as Deputy Head of Mission during the Czech Republic's preparations to join NATO and the EU), Tbilisi (as Ambassador), Moscow (as Minister) and Belgrade (as Ambassador). Denis has worked in London on the EU Single Market, German Unification and relations with China, Japan, India and other countries of the Far East and the Subcontinent. At the Cabinet Office in 2002-3, he led the team drawing up the UK's first Counter Terrorism Strategy. He continues to conduct research part time for the Foreign Commonwealth and Development Office and the Cabinet Office in London.

Preparation for Entrance Exams

Please note that the preparation courses that we provide are aimed at preparation for Y1 entry. All candidates can take our mock entrance exam that will be held at the school and they can choose one of the two offered dates. For further details and registration, please contact the Registrar, Mrs Jirešová.

English Exam Preparation Course

Candidates from Czech schools who would like to sit the ECP entrance exams but are perhaps feeling unsure about whether their English is strong enough to pass are offered a preparation course that will run once a week from January until March. It is expected that students choosing ECP and this course will all have a firm foundation in English, but may have experienced different approaches to English language teaching. Our aim is to consolidate their knowledge, revise English grammatical structures, practise reading & writing skills and build speaking confidence to make sure they have the appropriate skill set and confidence to pass our English entrance exam.

Mathematics Exam Preparation Session

The ECP entrance exams reflect the demands of the UK National Curriculum for Mathematics and its belief that Mathematics is a creative and highly interconnected discipline. The session is held on a Saturday in February or March and is designed to support candidates from Czech schools who have not experienced the English style of teaching Mathematics and may not be familiar with some of the mathematical language used. It is expected that students will have strong arithmetic skills and a firm foundation in English; the main objective is to give students some reassurance that their prior knowledge can be applied in a different context, rather than to specifically teach them any new mathematics. It should be noted that the entrance exams are in both English and Czech so as not to disadvantage students who do not yet know all of the relevant terminology.

Mock Entrance Exam

To help you make your final decision, the College provides a mock entrance exam before the actual entrance examination. The test will be held on 19 and 31 January 2024 and will consist of three short papers: English, Maths and Czech. This 'aptitude test' is not an examination and is not obligatory, and no marks or grades will be published. It will, however, enable us to advise you on the suitability of your child for the College, in case you have any doubts about whether your child will succeed here. If you would like your child to sit the test, please let us know by 12 January 2024 at the latest. After the test, you may contact the Registrar, Mrs Jirešová, who will be able to give you information and advice about the entrance examinations. The invitation to the entrance exams and further details will be sent out in advance to all the registered students.

Aims

The English College in Prague has as one of its aims, "to attract and retain those students best suited to the education we offer through selection, as far as possible, by academic ability rather than ability to pay." The College achieves this through bursaries, scholarships and other awards. The College usually spends up to 7% of fee income on various forms of fee reduction. An additional 0.5% of total fee income for that year is available to the Headmaster to offer to applicants joining the school at other times of the year. An additional 1% of school fee income is temporarily being used to support a number of Ukrainian refugees in meeting their fee obligations.

The application deadline for 2024/25 is 31 March 2024.

Bursaries

There are two types of bursary: ordinary bursaries and temporary hardship bursaries.

Criteria for Ordinary Bursaries

These bursaries are offered at three levels - 10%, 30% or 50% - and are dependent on an assessment of family income as stated on the official application form after which must be submitted by a date published on the school's website each year.

A bursary is granted for one school year only and new applications must be submitted annually. These are evaluated based on the most recent attendance and effort grades (see section below - Ongoing Eligibility) and the latest family income statements.

Temporary Hardship Bursaries Criteria

If parents find themselves facing unanticipated economic difficulties during the course of the school year, they can apply to the Headmaster for temporary financial support in meeting the continuing costs of their child's education.

Scholarships

Criteria for Scholarships

Each scholarship is awarded on a slightly different basis as described below. However, a prerequisite for all scholarships (except the Academic Scholarship) is a demonstrable financial need in addition to the specific criteria laid out below. The assessment of financial need is conducted through the submission of the same official application forms used for ordinary bursaries. Academic scholarships differ in that they are awarded independently of financial circumstances and therefore no financial details are required.

Individual Scholarships Programmes

There are seven scholarship programmes. Holders of all scholarships (except academic scholarships) need to fulfil certain community engagement obligations including the promotion of the scholarship programme and the annual fundraising concert for the Václav Havel Scholarship with the exception of the Barta Change Maker scholars who organise an annual conference centred around the idea of innovation.

- Prince of Wales Scholarship – The Prince of Wales Scholarship is awarded to a student who would not normally consider applying for a place at an independent school because of lack of funds. The ideal candidate will be an ambitious and talented individual of Czech descent.
- Schwarzenberg Scholarship – The Schwarzenberg Scholarship will enable a Czech student to attend the final four years at the English College in Prague. The scholarship is aimed at attracting a student who would not ordinarily be able to attend the College were the scholarship not available. Suitability will be judged on the likelihood of the student's life chances and comparative academic success being significantly improved.
- English College Foundation Scholarship – The English College Foundation is the UK charity that established the English College in Prague in 1994. Today the Foundation supports the English College both by coordinating social events for alumni living in the UK and by fundraising for the school. The English College Foundation Scholarship is a financial award designed to support a student joining the ECP in Year 4 or Year 5 and wishing to study for the International Baccalaureate and the Czech Maturita, who would not have had the funds to join the school earlier. The value of the award will be a minimum of 20% of the annual English College fees, but may rise to 80% in exceptional cases.
- Jan Barta Scholarships – These scholarships are for the student's entire time at the school and are funded up to 50% directly by the College and up to 50% by Mr Barta, who is an alumnus of the school. There are two strands to this scholarship programme: the Changing Lives and Changemaker Scholarships. The Changing Lives Scholarship programme is primarily aimed at students whose life choices or life chances are likely to be significantly changed by attending ECP. They are expected to actively support Diversity and Inclusion issues. The Changemaker Scholarship is aimed at those who are interested in innovation and the positive disruption of existing norms for the good of society and humanity.
- Václav Havel Scholarship – A few months before his death in 2011, Václav Havel gave his blessing to the creation of the ECP Václav Havel Scholarship, a student-led initiative enabling a member of the Roma community to study at the ECP on a fully funded scholarship. The school endeavours to reach out as widely as possible into the community to attract suitable candidates. Such candidates need to pass through the normal entrance procedures, but obviously account will be taken of their specific circumstances when assessments are made about their suitability for ECP.

■ Prague 9 Scholarships – These scholarships are designed to help prospective students who are in state school education in Prague 9 to be able to study at ECP. The level of the award is up to 50%, which will reflect academic potential and may take into account financial circumstances. The scholarships are usually for a duration of two years although with sustained excellent academic performance, they will usually be continued for a further two years.

■ Academic Scholarships – These scholarships are currently offered to new students in the school. Generally, they are for one or two years and usually at a fee reduction of 25%.

Academic Scholarships, bursaries and sibling discounts may be combined, but only up to a maximum discount of 50%.

How to apply

Families can apply for a scholarship (except academic scholarships). The application process is generic in that you do not apply for a particular scholarship programme. The school will allocate available scholarships according to the circumstances and interests of the applicants.

- Download the request for reduced tuition fee form from the website and submit the completed form to our Registrar.
- Submit a motivational letter of approximately 800 words, written by your child in English, explaining why they would like to study at the English College in Prague. (Those with a particular interest in the Changemaker or Changing Lives programme should make reference to their interest in this programme and what personal ideas and opinions they have in these areas).
- Pass the school's entrance exams in English, Czech, Maths and non-verbal skills.
- If selected, attend a selection panel consisting of the Headmaster and three independent, external members during which the motivational letter will be discussed in detail.

Scholarship interviews will take place at the beginning of May.

Other Prizes, Awards and Discounts

Founders' Academic Prizes

The Founders' Academic Prizes are awarded each year to the three highest-achieving students in each year group on the basis of their performance throughout the previous academic year.

Talent Awards

A small amount of money is available to students who show exceptional talent in a certain area. These are not scholarships, but students who receive these awards receive modest help to develop their talent with subsidised experiences or access to resources. The number of awards made each year varies, but there are usually three or four students in receipt of a Talent Award in the school at any one time. In return, students are required to contribute significantly to the cultural life of the College through school events, public occasions and by example. These awards are offered to existing students who show particular talent - there is no formal application process.

Sibling Discounts

Sibling discounts are automatic and consist of a 10% discount on the second and any subsequent siblings' school fees.

Ongoing Eligibility

All bursaries, scholarships, prizes, awards and sibling discounts at ECP are conditional on pupils achieving an attendance rate of 90% or above and ATL grades of A & B, unless exceptional circumstances apply. They are not dependent on ongoing academic performance, only attitude and attendance.

Finance and Fees 2023/2024

By paying a refundable deposit of 50,000 CZK for the school fees, parents accept the financial and contractual terms of the ECP and confirm that they accept the place offered for their child. The deposit for school fees must be paid according to the deadline in the contract. If the payment is not made, the place is no longer reserved for their child and will be offered to another applicant. If the student does not take up his or her place, after being accepted, the deposit paid will not be returned. This deposit for the school fees will be deducted from the final term's fees.

The parents further undertake to pay a refundable deposit for books of 15,000 CZK. This deposit for books will be refunded at the end of the child's study at the College on condition that all liabilities towards the College are settled including returning all books and other borrowed equipment and materials.

The school fees are governed by the contract signed between the College and the parents of a student.

The school fees are payable in Czech crowns (CZK).

All school fees are subject to an annual review and may be changed unilaterally by the College at its own discretion because of inflation or for other reasons.

If a student leaves the College early, i.e. before the end of Year 6, the parents must give written notice, one full term in advance, to the Headmaster or alternatively, they must pay one term's school fees in lieu of notice.

Parents may apply for a Social Bursary for the next academic year by 22 March of the current year. The form is available on the College's website.

School Fees in Year 2023/2024

Renovations of our building

Starting this year we will be completely renovating and extending our existing premises. For such an extensive project we need to vacate the building until September 2025. The final building will keep the very best of the character of the old building but provide a modern glass, concrete and steel facility housing a wonderful new auditorium, drama studio, 11 new classrooms and a vaulted atrium containing lots of working pods for students to relax and work between lessons as well as a fully equipped refectory so we can offer reasonably priced locally cooked healthy meals.

The project will, for the first time, bring all 400 students under the same roof and allow the school to run more efficiently and of course, increase our sense of community. We are all very excited by this project and feel the slight disruption will be a small price to pay for such a wonderful facility.

For the intervening period, we have secured the temporary use of a brand new school, Elektra. It is an amazing facility as you will see when you visit. Students in Years 1 and 2 and the IB students will have their lessons here, while the students in Years 3 and 4 will continue to use the office building near the Vysočanská metro that we have been using successfully for many years.
